DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
2. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
3. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) s 1-2, drawn to a procedure for injection molding multi-layer plastic products.

Group II, claim(s) s 3-7, drawn to multi-layer plastic product designs.

4. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: where claims are directed to different categories of inventions, in order to relate to a single general inventive concept under Rule 13.1, the claims must fall within one of the enumerated categories of invention as listed in 37 C.F.R. § 1.475(b).
5. In this case, Groups I and II are directed to a product and a process for making a product. In order for the requirements of 7 C.F.R. § 1.475(b) to be satisfied, the process must be specially adapted for the manufacture of said product. The implementing regulations for the PCT, Appendix E, indicate that the phrase that a process be “specially adapted for the manufacture of said product” requires that the process inherently result in the formation of the process. Where a claimed process does not inherently result in a claimed product, the requirements of 37 C.F.R. § 1.475(b) are not met. In the case at hand, the claimed process does not inherently result in the claimed product. Claims 3, 4, and 7 are the independent product claims. The process of either of claims 1 or 2 does not result in the products of claim 3, because claim 3 requires thin layers, and neither claim 1 nor claim 2 requires the formation of thin layers. The process of claim 1 does not inherently result in the product of claim 4, because claim 4 requires thick layers, and claim 1 does not require the formation of thick layers. The process of claim 1 does not inherently result in the product of claim 7, because claim 7 requires that the segments of the first layer be joined in a separable manner along the inlet where an 'O' ring is inserted, or with coupling, or in an inseparable manner, by gluing, melting, friction-welding or ultrasonic welding in the inlet joining points, and claim 1 does not require that the segments be joined along the inlets in the specified manners (i.e. claim 1 requires that the claims be joined by "coupling or in any other known way." Therefore, the processes of Group I do not inherently result in the products claimed in Group II.

6. Because Groups I and II do not comply with the requirements of 37 C.F.R. § 1.475(b), they do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1, and therefore lack unity of invention.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

8. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

10. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

11. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
